

FINDING HOME

WRITING & PUBLISHING IN THE GLOBAL COMMUNITY

SATURDAY
MARCH 22
1-6PM

- Schedule 1-3PM Panel discussion, coffee & networking
3-5PM Writing Critique Workshops – Prose or Poetry
5-6PM Reception
- Location Ragdale, 1260 North Green Bay Road in Lake Forest
- Fee $50 – Panel, workshop, coffee & reception
$45 – Advance registration by March 15
$20 – Panel & Coffee only
$35 – Workshop & Reception only
- Registration/ Information Go to ragdale.org
- Questions Call 847.234.1063 or email info@ragdale.org

This two-part program highlights multicultural voices and stories and includes a panel discussion on getting published and a writing critique workshop. Find out what editors look for and what opportunities are available online and in print. Then, participate in a workshop in poetry or prose, mine your personal history, share your voice, and explore what is universal and distinct in your work. Writers at all levels are welcome.

Workshops featuring award-winning authors and Ragdale alumni:

- Angela Narciso Torres (poetry)
- Angie Chuang (memoir)

Panelists include:

- Heather Buchanan, publisher, Aquarius Press/Willow Books
- Ralph Hamilton, senior editor, RHINO
- Susan Harris, editorial director, Words without Borders
- John Rich, director, Guild Literary Complex
- Danny Parra, editorial director, 7Vientos

